Media Information

EUROPEAN HANDBALL
FEDERATION

Media information

Dear Media Representative,

Welcome to the fourth season of the Women's EHF Cup in the current format. Before the 2016/17 season the Cup Winners's Cup has merged with the Women's EHF Cup into one competition - the new Women's EHF Cup. Just like in the men's version of the EHF Cup, the new competition also included the group phase preceded by qualification rounds and followed by quarter-finals. The semi-finals and the final are played in a home and away games format.

In the next season this competition will transform into the Women's European Handball League.

In the following media information you will find the essential facts you will require for the final two games and the participating teams. Additional information can be found on the eurohandball.com website and on the revamped homepage europeancup.eurohandball.com

Media portal

All media representatives are invited to register for the EHF media portal on <http://members.ehf.eu>. The European Handball Federation's media portal is a one-stop-shop for media representatives offering all the EHF's media news such as press releases, event flash quotes directly after matches, press conference highlights, draw reactions and downloads of all relevant information including, but not limited to, media guides and event logos. Furthermore photographs that are free for editorial use will be available for download.

For further information or assistance, please do not hesitate to contact the EHF Media and Communications Department and we will be happy to help you with any information you may require.

EC Regulations

Important regulations

What follows in case of a draw

If, after completion of the two matches, both clubs have won the same number of points (no extra time will be played), the teams' standings shall be determined by the following criteria:

- a) goal difference
- b) higher number of plus goals scored in away match
- c) penalty throws

Rules for execution of penalty throws

- Prior to the penalty throws, each team shall name five players eligible to play at the end of the match by handing the referees a list of numbers. These players shall then take one throw each, alternating with their opponents. Each team is free to determine the sequence in which throwers will take their throws.
- The goalkeepers may be freely selected from the match report and exchanged in accordance with the Rules of the Game. Goalkeepers may take throws and throwers may perform as goalkeepers.
- The referees shall choose the goal at which throws are taken. The team taking the first penalty throw shall be determined by the referees by drawing lots. The team winning the draw may choose whether it wishes to throw first or last.

- If the scores are equal after the first round of penalty throws, it shall be continued until a decision is reached. In the second round, the other team shall start. Again five players shall be named who are eligible to play (the players named before may be named once again).
- In the second round, a decision is reached when a goal difference arises after both teams have taken one throw each.
- Eligible players are players entered in the match report that have not been disqualified or suspended at the time of the final whistle.
- Serious infractions committed during penalty throws shall be sanctioned by disqualification. If a thrower is disqualified or suffers an injury, an eligible substitute player shall be supplementary named.
- While the throws are being taken, only the player taking the throw, the current goalkeeper and the referees may enter the respective half of the playing court.
- If the number of eligible players falls below five, players may be named to take a second throw in the same round.

Tasty Austrian tie opens the season

Unlike the men's competition, the Women's EHF Cup 2019/20 is not bound to get a different winner compared to last season.

Siófok KC, who won the trophy in style, will defend their title. However, the Hungarian side will enter the competition this season only in Qualification Round 3.

A total of 32 other teams will start in Qualification Round 1. Seven pairings will be carried out as double-headers next weekend (13-15 September) so 18 teams will take the courts this weekend to open the competition.

Austrian rivalry taken to European level

In Austria, four-time EHF Champions League winners Hypo Niederösterreich will face domestic rivals WAT Atzgersdorf on Saturday in what promises to be a tasty encounter. The match starts at 15:05 local time and will be streamed live on ehfTV.com. WAT defeated Hypo in the two-leg final of the Austrian league last season, ending Hypo's unprecedented streak of 42 straight national championships as they had won the title every single season since 1976/77. Hypo will be fired up to host WAT on Saturday, with the return match in Atzgersdorf scheduled for 14 September.

Seven double-headers

This weekend, seven duels will be double-headers. The round will start on Friday in Reykjavik, where the local side Valur are to face Sweden's Skuru - and the two teams will play each other again two days later. Another Swedish team, Höör, hope to reach the group phase again: they did so in 2017/18 but failed to repeat the feat the following season. Höör will start the new campaign with two matches on home court against Switzerland's Brühl, scheduled for Saturday and Sunday.

On the same days, the EHF Cup champions from 2017, Craiova, will also enter the competition. The Romanian team coached by Bogdan Burcea hope to go far again, and their first rival is Salerno from Italy.

From Challenge Cup to EHF Cup

Two teams from the former Soviet Union are scheduled to meet twice in Lviv, as the Ukrainian champions Galychanka will play against Azeryol from Azerbaijan. A double-header in Kwintsheul in the Netherlands will feature two sides that have been playing in the Challenge Cup in each of the past five seasons: Quintus reached the semi-final there twice, including last season, making them favourites against Finland's HIFK, who have never made it past Qualification Round 3.

Bayer only German team in Round 1

The only German representative in Round 1 is Bayer, who make their comeback to a European Cup competition after a five-year break. The 'Werkselfen' are expected to have the upper hand against Cypriot side Latsia Nicosia in the games played in two different German towns - Bottrop on Saturday and Leverkusen on Sunday. Like the tie with the Austrian teams, there is another pairing that will be played over two weekends: French side Besancon, who made it to the group phase last season, will play Colegio de Gaia with the first leg scheduled in Portugal on Saturday. This match starts at 19:00 hrs local time and will be streamed live on ehfTV.com.
