Capacity: 2,200

- Metz won two of three previous duels against the Vipers, but lost the most important one - the placement match at the 2019 edition of the DELO WOMEN'S EHF FINAL4 in Budapest.

- Both sides had their first ever appearance at the pinnacle event of women's club handball this year.

- Metz were the first ever French side to be part of the event (and even the semi-final of the competition), while Vipers were the second Norwegian club after Larvik in 2015.

- While Metz currently have their 21st appearance in the CL, it is only the third season for Kristiansand.

- Vipers coach Ole Gunnar Gjekstad steered Larvik already to Budapest before.

- Vipers right back Linn Sulland was last season's top scorer of the DELO WOMEN'S EHF Champions League with 89 goals.

- Metz goalkeeper Laura Glauser suffers from a partly torn ACL from the last CL match at FTC and even will miss the WCh in December, Xenia Smits is out for month after a shoulder injury.

- On the other hand and goalkeeper Katrine Lunde still is out after tearing the ACL at Budapest in May.

- Heidi Loke and Lunde are four times CL winners each. Loke with Larvik in 2011 and three times Györ (2013, 2014, 2017), Lunde with Viborg (2009, 2010) and Györ (2013, 2014). So both have the chance to win the trophy with their third different club.

- Sulland won the CL in 2011 with Larvik and was two times in a row finalist at Budapest: 2015 with Larvik and 2016 with Györ.

- Metz do not have any player in their squad, who won the CL before. Even none of them ever played a final.

- The Vipers squad only includes two Non-Norwegian players: Miranda Morais from Angola and Yurou Yang from China. Both are the only CL players of their countries.

- Metz count on players from six countries: France, Netherlands, Germany, Ukraine, Denmark and Croatia.

- 6 current Metz players were a core part of the French team, which won the EHF EURO 2018 trophy on home ground, beating Russia in the thrilling final at Paris. Including Gnonsiane Niombla (left to Siofok) and Beatrice Edwige (now Györ) it were even eight.

- One Metz player was born in the Caribbean: Dutch international Jurswally Luciano comes from Curacao.

- France and Norway top the nations ranking of current DELO WOMEN'S EHF Champions League players: 40 French and 35 Norwegian players are part of the 16 squads of the group matches.

- Metz coach Emmanuel Mayonnade also steers the Dutch national team. He was voted best coach of the 2018/19 CL.

- Only Györ (81 goals) have scored more often in the first two group matches than Metz (74 strikes)
